Postmodern Fiction in the Information Age

Professor Joseph M. Conte
(SUNY at Buffalo)

Joseph M. Conte is Associate Professor and Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of English at the State University of New York at Buffalo. He holds a doctorate in English and American Literature from Stanford University, and was previously educated at Cornell University, where he graduated with Distinction in Classics.

Professor Conte's book, Unending Design: The Forms of Postmodern Poetry (Cornell University Press, 1991; 314 pp.) was nominated for the Poetry Society of America's Melville Cane Award in 1993. As well as editing three volumes of the Dictionary of Literary Biography: American Poets Since World War II (Gale Research Press, 1996), he has written widely on postmodern poetry and literature, and is, himself, a poet.
